Beloit Testing Records

Exceptional high production records were established in the Beloit-Cow County Testing association for December. Twenty-six milkers tested the month with a total of 355 cows averaging 700 pounds of milk and 267 pounds of butter-fat. There were 40 cows in the testing circuit that produced more than 40 pounds and 66 that hit over the 1,000 pound milk production mark.

The high herd for the month again falls to Guethers owned by Tewa brothers, nine cows averaging 354 pounds of milk and 41.9 pounds of butter-fat. The herd of Rockwell and Katterhenry was second with 38 grade Holsteins averaging 1147 pounds milk and 39.4 pounds of butter-fat. The Albert Marsten herd was third with 11 grade Holsteins averaging 1087 pounds of milk and 36.8 pounds of butter-fat.

In the 15 months of association work, the Beloit-Cow county dairymen have their first cow to produce more than 100 pounds of butter-fat. "Beauty," a grade Holstein, a half sister to the champion "Gladys" of the same breed, milked 100 pounds of milk in the period is credited with 2130 pounds of butter-fat, a record for the month in cow testing association work. There is an unusual list of 40 pound cows for the month as detailed in the report of Tester Earl Smith.

The following table gives the names and records of the cows in the association which have produced more than 40 pounds of butterfat during the period of 20 days ending December, 1922.

FARMER IN NEED OF 100 CENT "$"

K. L. Hatch Sees Need for Capital and Labor and Business to Meet Farmer.

By K. L. HATCH.
Wisconsin College of Agriculture.

The farmer hopes that the New Year will be better than the one just past.

He does not expect greatly increased prices for his own products but he does expect to buy at better figures. In other words, he expects his dollar to come nearer in size to other men's dollars.

The average farmer has been able only to live and to meet current expenses during the past two years. He could not save nor pay his debts. Instead of paying off the mortgage he has had to renew it—often at an increased rate to cover interest on the old note or to include additional debts that he has incurred but is unable to meet from the farm income.

CAR PRODUCTION BEGINS IN MONTH

Chevrolet and Fisher Machinery Rapidly Going Into Place.

The concrete floor on the mammoth plant having been laid and completed, the building erected in the center of this week, installation of machinery has been started in earnest at the Fisher Body plant under the direction of Manager A. J. Brundage, with the probability that few more cars will be assembled before the close of February.

Mr. Brundage is housed in temporary quarters in the Chevrolet offices until the new plant is completed. The Fisher company are fixed on the second floor. Drying ovens are being built in one end of the plant as the workmen lay the foundation blocks over the concrete in the other. When the plant is completed there will be 25 drying ovens in which the automobiles will undergo the painting process. Equipment for the ovens will be installed by the Drying Equipment company of Chicago. The ovens will accommodate 1,500 cars at one time.

Ten carloads of machinery have been received on the truck and more is expected from day to day. It is estimated that it will take 15 days from the time work on assembling the body is started until it is finished. The push type of conveyor will be used in the ovens while there will be eight chain type conveyors.

When equipment comes in, work on the body starts on the unit assembly line. The car goes down two main conveyors and the cars go into the ovens when they reach the end of these, and are then turned over to the body and body fitter, who then puts on the finishing touches.

T. B. Houghton, plant manager of the Chevrolet in Flint, Mich.

Chevrolet Gains Popularity

No more spectacular rise in the automobile industry is recorded; that of the Chevrolet which in less than a year's time has jumped from seventh to second place in the automobile industry, being second only to Henry Ford's product. The car has been on the market seven years.

On top of this, an announcement of the Chevrolet copper-cooled motor has created an even greater sensation and is the talk of the automobile world today.

The General Motors had much success with air cooled motor. Their DeLoe Lighting system which has led to the experiments conducted on the Chevrolet. Excess heat developed in the engine cylinders is radiated through copper fins permanently united to the cast iron, a metallurgical achievement hitherto considered impossible.

Changes Radiator Position

Like other internal combustion engines, this motor is readily air cooled, the copper fins merely serving as a means to carry engine heat direct to the cooling air without the use of water as a vehicle. In effect what the Chevrolet has done is to remove the radiator from its normal position in the front of the hood, and wrap it around the cylinder walls.

Each cylinder block is cast separately. The copper fins for each cylinder are made from one sheet of this thin copper, stamped so that when wrapped around the cylinder block the flattened bases of the crimps are in continuous contact. The final union of the copper and iron is accomplished by a brazing process of electrical furnaces.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE MYERS.
Tears, red eyes and clearing of throats were much in evidence at the Myers theater last night in spite of the fact that "Clarence" was a comedy. The tragic part of it was that Wallace Reid, buried not more than two days ago, played the leading part and played it as well as any part he has ever had. Fans will like to remember him, if for nothing else, for his acting in "Clarence".

Combined with the comedy in the picture, comedy of a wholesome kind introduced by the lovely Clarence, is much drama to be remembered. While it is not Wallace Reid's last picture, "Clarence" will go down with "Forever" as being two of his greatest productions. Agnes Ayres, Katharine Williams, May McAvoy and Edward Martindel could not be better suited to their parts; and all play with ability.

A good Pop Tuttle comedy and a news reel are also on the program. Solvay photo, the day of the evening, one of the screen's greatest favorites, were given away Monday night.

AT THE APOLLO.
Children are hugely enjoying themselves this week at the Apollo theater and adults who of interest and entertainment value. For the Butterfly Kid, there are there for four days and five nights on a program of songs, dances and novelties that should be liked by all. The program is not for the children alone—they perhaps will become more enthusiastic about it than adults.

Comic songs, modern songs, flower dances and the novelties are all done with a uniform excellence. Their acting shows good training and much ability.

Children's matinees are being given after school daily. The one Monday was well patronized and others doubtless will be.

The picture being shown in conjunction is "The Light in the Dark," starring Hope Hampton, supported by E. K. Lincoln and Lon Charey. It is an interesting story of the Holy Grail brought to date with the present day. New York, and the participants in

STANDING AT THE DOOR OF DARKNESS

Here is the letter that caused this to be written: Editor Gazette: I have wondered why you have not written something about Wallace Reid. You seem to be delighted to write something about people like him. What have you to say?

MARY.

The other name of the writer is Immaterial. It may be well that Mary sent this letter. It is hard to write of Wallace Reid. An actor on the screen really and truly is a public character—public property, so to speak. So he reaches a position where he becomes somewhat a part of the lives of many people. His silent movements—his screen make him more than a shadowy reality.
 We cheer and gasp and sob and feel thrills and sit on the edge of the seat when danger—all too palpable—is waiting at the turn of the road. Yes, that's it—at the turn of the road. And in spite of the veiled insinuation of criticism, Mary, there is a sorrow and a pity, and a deep wonder about what happened to a youthful person like Wallace Reid when it came to the turn of the road. And wonder, too, when one thinks of the man standing there at the Great Portal wrapped in complete darkness, waiting for the close-up when the shadovy curtain shall rise.

We do not like to write about tragedy, Mary.
 When a clever, genial, lovable man, with a soul of laughter and delight is wrecked on the storm tossed sea of life, which he has himself chosen, lies a shattered husk surrounded by blasted hope and grinning skeletons of good times, we cannot but be sorrowful.

Out in the woods men defiant of law, hunt deer with torches. Timidity is overcome by curiosity and the gentle deer, doe, fawn or buck, comes to the light and dies.

Life is a good deal like that, Mary. Wallace Reid—and there are several thousands of Wallace Reids—tried the path which leads to the blazing glamour of being a good fellow, took the first and the second steps, and ended out in mockery, that one or two did not hurt, while all the time he was walking toward that deadly torch.
 These things are inexorable. There is some one to pay always. Wallace Reid has paid with a broken home, broken hearts—a pitiful bundle of flesh and bone to stagger to the last Door of Adventure.

Wallace Reid was but one who has paid. Others will pay hereafter, the bitter, terrible price for a few hours of mockery and clean living.

A Chinese carpet costs 70 cents a day for 15 hours work. What does he do with the rest of his leisure time?

MAKING THE BANDIT BUSINESS A LITTLE HARDER.

There is a good deal of strength back of the movement to make it harder for the bandit to purchase weapons with which to carry on his regular occupation. It is the easiest thing in the world now to get the necessary capital to start bandit-ing. If a revolver cannot be purchased it can be stolen readily. But the laws against the sale of the revolver will not stop banditry at once. It will take what is needed in other lines of crime for the correction and suppression of the bandit. The easy judge with a backbone like an angleworm and with one eye on the political boss who is a friend of the yeggman and the pull that makes governors and pardon boards release the convict as soon as he tires of the stone and steel environment, is worse than the revolver.

Sir Basil Thompson, former chief of Scotland Yard, who has been visiting in this country and making note of its crime annals from day to day has commented on this phase of American crime. An English thug, he says, does not carry a gun as if he is apprehended in the commission of crime with a deadly weapon, as a gun in his possession, conviction carries with it a sentence of life imprisonment. And when a crook is sent up for life in England, he usually stays there, not having the refuge of a soft-hearted governor to help him out of his trouble and back to liberty.

A little more of the English way would be a salutary thing in this country. The outlaw who carries a gun does so with the deliberate purpose of using it if he should get into a corner. When he is not in so tight a place he uses it to intimidate his victim. In any case he is a potential order, wholly conscious of the fact, and he puts himself outside the pale of tender dealing under the law.

Strictly limiting the sale of personal firearms

COOPERATIVE MARKETING

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN

Washington.—Extension of cooperative associations for the marketing of practically all kinds of farm products is in exact ratio to the understanding by farmers of the fundamental principle that only the grower is interested in selling the entire crop of a given commodity.
 The middleman is never concerned in seeing that all the wheat, all the tobacco, all the cotton, all the apples, all the potatoes, all the oranges, all the raisins, or all of any crop that may be produced in a season is marketed. He is only interested in buying what he can sell, and in selling what he has bought. It is his interest to have the supply always greater than the demand, for he can use that as an excuse to break the price to the producer. It is also to his advantage to see that the world does not absorb over production, for that enables him to maintain prices to the consumer, and hence he is not interested in exhausting the demand for any commodity.

But the grower may sell all that he himself produces and still suffer because the entire crop of that commodity has not been marketed, for the price he receives will be lower by reason of the real or apparent surplus production. And if he does not sell all his produce, of course he loses that portion of his crop that is left on his hands.
 To protect his own interests, accordingly, he must see to it that the demand is exhausted if that is necessary to effect the sale of the entire crop.

Takewise it is better in the long run for the individual that all the growers of any given commodity receive the same price, if it is a fair price, than that he should market his own crop for any one season at a slightly better price than his neighbors get.

Once the farmer has learned all this he is ripe for cooperation. He understands readily that why it is necessary to bring practically all or a large percentage of the growers into the association.
 He sees why it is essential that the cooperative contract or agreement be long and binding, and that it must bind himself to market all his crop through the association, and he sees the menace to the entire cooperative structure if a single member succumbs to the temptation to break his contract.

Closely allied with the interests of the farmer are those of the merchant, the banker, the lawyer, the editor, the doctor, the teacher—in fact, of all who go to make up the community that is the center of any agricultural section. This was brought out clearly when the raisin growers of California were being organized. They held their first meeting in season and the leading merchant of the town told them that if they would organize and do something for themselves he would put every penny he had in the world behind them.

"You fellows are not making any money," he said. "You don't buy anything from me except overalls for yourselves and Mother Hubbard's for your wives. You don't buy any furniture except the cheapest. You don't buy any kitchen utensils except tinware. The only way I can make any money is by buying up mortgages on your vineyards and foreclosing on you, but I don't want to make money that way. I want to make money as a merchant, and I can't do that unless you are prosperous."

The banker told them he could not be successful unless the growers were successful and the merchants were successful, and the editor had a similar story.

"You don't make enough money out of your raisins to be subscribers to my paper," he said, "and the merchants won't advertise because they say you people don't take the paper and don't buy anything anyhow."

The result of this realization of the community interest was that when the campaign was launched to sign up 75 per cent of the raisin acreage they all worked together. Means were formed consisting of two growers and a merchant, two growers and a banker, two growers and a lawyer, two growers and a teacher, and so on, and the cooperative idea was sold to the individual growers like hot cakes. In six months 75 per cent of the entire raisin acreage of the state was signed up, and in six years the association increased the consumption of raisins in this country from 30, 000 tons a year to 160,000.

Moreover, where the California grower formerly got only 5 cents of the consumer's dollar he now gets 45 cents, and this has been accomplished because cooperative marketing means merchandizing a product instead of dumping it.

It is a far cry from California to New Hampshire, but the New England State has tackled the problem in a spirit akin to that of the West, and in two years has made a substantial progress in what is claimed to be the first state-wide experiment in cooperative marketing. Frank Knox, editor of the Manchester Union, has been actively identified with this movement which, he says, "if successfully pursued, leads to economic restoration of agriculture as a great industry and consequent great and permanent prosperity for the state as a whole."

Shortly after the experiment was started in New Hampshire, Mr. Knox went to Europe and made a close study of the cooperative marketing methods in Denmark. He wrote a series of articles on the subject.

It has been found in New Hampshire that the farmers are slow to appreciate the critical importance of the success of the experiment and have as yet supplied less than 50 per cent of the capital needed. A few public spirited men have shouldered the burden and have repeatedly used their personal credit to tide the association over.
 Mr. Knox is making a drive to enlist the active support of business men, bankers and manufacturers of his state in a manner somewhat similar to that in California. Recently he published an appeal in which he said:

"A few men, a very few men, have been zealous and unselfishly backing this project. Its success means no more to them than it does to any group of similar size that might be gathered together. If the experiment is successful they will share in the general advantage which comes to the state as a whole, no more and no less."

"This small group ought not to be asked to carry this vital work on alone. It ought to have the unqualified and enthusiastic cooperation of such bodies as the State Manufacturers' association, the State Bankers' association, the State Conference of Chambers of Commerce, the State Grange and the State Federation of Farm Bureau."

"This is primarily an appeal for all of the varied interests of the state to support a movement that Secretary Hoover accurately defines as the greatest hope of future agricultural prosperity in the United States."

and as strictly limiting the legal possession of them probably would do some good, but in order to be really effective as a safeguard against numerous crimes, the limitations should be in all the states rather than in a few here and there.

THE SPECULATOR IN GERMAN MARKS.

The Gazette is informed that speculation in German marks is going on and that there is a fatuous belief that they will one day be made good. The latest report shows the German treasury bills outstanding on December 31 to be one trillion 495 billion marks. At par that is 374 billions of dollars. It is an impossible sum for any nation to pay and there is apparently no thought that Germany ever will redeem her obligations at anything like par. The one who speculates in marks now is the kind of human being to whom the swindler sells the Woolworth building and the Brooklyn bridge for a few hundred dollars.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

ONCE AND FOR ALL.
 Heed not the cynic nor the grinning fool!
 Neither is right in all that he declares.
 Life is not but a heap of needless cares, Unending misery and drab affairs.
 To call it always happy, is but drivel;
 The heartache and the agony may send a shiver
 May mock the sombre raiment and the frown,
 But men cannot be children out of town.
 Neither is right! Life is a moving stream, Wherever are floated freights of joy and care.
 Speedless at times the agonies may send a shiver,
 But never doubt they have a purpose there.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOULTON.

MEDITATION ON THE NEW YEAR
 Go out into the open places of God
 And learn how to be a little futile
 Are the efforts of man
 To measure eternity
 By man-made years
 Behold the eternal stars
 Signaling the pulse of God
 Upon blind eyes
 Hear the eternal winds
 Whispering the God's love
 Into dull ears
 A million years ago
 I stood in the open place
 Of God
 Listening in on the Infinite Watching the heaven's signs
 A million years ago
 I shall hear and read
 Messages of Divinity
 In the open courts of God,
 Because I am that I am.
 Because—

We notice that a celebrated English author is soon going to lecture on "What America Owea England." There is nothing to do but to send some good folks over there to lecture on the reverse of this subject.

The trouble with soldiers who come over here from Europe is that they all seem to fight the last war, and we don't mind saying that the last war is now a very tender and embarrassing subject in this neck of the woods.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY FOILED

By Clarissa Popover Conwinkle.
 Past booth after booth went the rich merchant, followed by a smart chauffeur in livery, for the annual bazaar was in full swing.
 "Ah, Mr. Harrington," gushed a pretty girl at one of the booths, "what are you going to buy?
 Antile and I are in charge of this booth. We have cushions, penwipers and all sorts of—"
 "There's one thing I should like to buy," said the anxious visitor. "Do you sell kisses at your booth?"
 "Oh, certainly," came the prompt reply. "Ten dollars each!"
 "Antile," cried the wily dame, "forward, please. Two kisses for this gentleman!" For a moment the wealthy one was nonplussed, but only for a moment.
 "He turned to his chauffeur."
 "James," he said, coolly, "just take this purchase, please."

WHY WE ADORE THE MOVIES.

Because we've lost three pairs of over shoes, four umbrellas, a nuffer and half of six pairs of gloves at them.
 Because we've sprained our ankle four times at them.
 Because we've used our 1922 supply of penwipers by having our names stepped on at them.
 Because we've lost most all our back hair as the result of people in the row behind rubbing it off at them.

AND IN EVERY WAY.

Who's Who Today

ERNEST DE WITT BURTON.
 Ernest De Witt Burton, head of the department of New Testament and early Christian literature, and director of the libraries at the University of Chicago, will be the next president of this institution. He will take up his new duties upon the retirement next month of Harry Pratt Judson, who has been head of the university for sixteen years.

Prof. Burton will be remembered by some as the editor in chief of the Biblical World, a publication of the divinity school at Chicago.
 He attracted wide comment in 1909 through an editorial which gave a new light on the Bible. He is reported to have said at that time that the Bible cannot be taken as a compendium of truth, nor even of theology.
 The University of Chicago has had but two presidents since the late William Rainey Harper, and Dr. Judson Prof. Burton will be the third president. He was chairman of the committee that drew the plans for the $8,000,000 group of buildings at the university in 1919.
 He was born at Granville, Ohio, in 1856. He was graduated from Denison university in 1876 and from the Rochester Theological seminary in 1882. He later studied in Leipzig and Berlin. He is a native of Rochester, N. Y., and was professor in the Newton Theological institution before going to Chicago in 1902.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO
 Jan. 23, 1883.—Due to the cold weather, schools here have closed for a few weeks. The Adams, however, has received no notice and is running as the school bus. He will be in a play at the Myers house tonight. The extreme cold of today, continuing around 30 degrees below, did not hinder many teams from being out on the streets. Many fast flyers were out on South Main street.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
 Jan. 23, 1893.—Six canvassers are bringing funds rapidly and the obtaining of temporary quarters and a secretary for the Y. M. C. A. looks probable. Many meetings have been held in the past two days, during which it was shown that while interest was high when the association started, lately it has been lagging. The needed amount is $12,000, of which $9,000 has been pledged.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
 Jan. 23, 1903.—Richard Carle and his company is appearing at the Myers theater tonight in "The Storm."—Dancing to the music of a phonogram was the feature of the evening. A number of entertainers enjoyed by the merry company of people who took possession of the gymnasium at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ashcraft on Thursday evening.

TEN YEARS AGO

Jan. 23, 1913.—Janesville's roller polo team will play Kenosha tomorrow night, and will have its stiffest game then. Those who are to be on the team are John Corley, Harry George, Floyd Kierbas, Ted Behrman, George Langman, and Fred Gaffney. The recent petition to build a ready, after being entirely made over when the first one was illegal.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

Probably very few professional or amateur automobile mechanics know that there is a certain risk of serious injury to the eyes when they use the blow torches and arc welders in the storage battery.
 Dr. Brady's Gracie calls attention to this danger and reports some cases of battery burns in the journal of the American Medical Association.

A fully charged battery has a temperature as high as 234 degrees F.
 Hydrogen gas given off by the electrolytic change in the sulphuric acid appears as bubbles in the battery solution. The battery is said to be gas-ing. "When a battery is in this fully charged state there is danger of ignition of the hydrogen by a spark, a glowing cigarette or light, or an open flame, with disastrous effect for any one so unfortunate as to be working over the battery at the moment.
 There is more than less danger appears within the battery above the level of the battery solution, and the hydrogen may accumulate here. Then, if accidental ignition occurs, it is practically explosive, existing gas pressure upon the battery solution and perhaps forcing the solution out in a sudden spurt through the vent, and as Dr. Gracie says, "was beside the flesh that lies within the range of the hot sulphuric acid."

One man was removing a fully charged battery from the charging bench when a live wire short circuit on a lamp caused a spark which near the vent which exploded the gas, shooting the hot sulphuric acid into the man's eye. The eye was immediately washed with water, later the physician attended with a solution of sodium bicarbonate. Fortunately the cornea injury was not great in this case and no scar remaining. In other instances opacity is permanently impaired.

LAST GRADUATION HELD IN OLD H. S.

Class Night Program Given—Final Exercises in New School, Friday.

Before an audience of 600 people, the 33 graduates-to-be of the high school on Monday night enacted their half-serious, half-merry class exercises. They were novel in several respects. It was the first time that those exercises had been held in the gymnasium in some years and will stand out as the last big affair at the old high school building.

The program opened with a number of the best of the class, led by Miss Herdis Hanson. Francis Boos, president of the class, gave the address of welcome and the class will be written by Bernard Snyder, Herbert Hulse, Don Whitmore and Carol Adams.

Books Given School. The books which were given the school as a gift for remembrance of the class were presented by Miss Brown, Earl Adams, Gladys Hile, Howard Grace Nott and Gladys Hile. Miss Brown presented the books, all biographies and auto biographies. The class then sang its farewell number, closing the program.

Miss Anna Buss of the Lincoln school eighth grade, won the honor of being highest in the A. R. history examinations, recently conducted, and was given a prize by the school.

The only social affair of the class will occur Tuesday night. The class members enjoyed a banquet at the old high school. A number of speeches are on the program.

Commencement is Friday. Wednesday afternoon the class will march from the school building to the new high school building. The event, Friday night, will be the main one—commencement exercises at the new high school building. R. L. Lynde of the University of Chicago will give the main address, and Jesse Earle, president of the board of education, will present diplomas.

On Monday afternoon, the class will sponsor a moving picture at the Apollo theater, for which each of the members are selling tickets.

Exams for all except the graduates, who finished their last week's classes, started Monday morning and last through two days. Then will come a week of reorganization and moving and on Feb. 5 classes will be started at the new high school.

Training School Sixth in Tests

In a series of uniform standard tests given graduating classes of county training schools, high school teachers courses and one year courses in the state normal schools, the sixth county training school ranked sixth among the training schools with a score of 75.

The test was given 35 pupils of last year's class by Miss Frank Leith. The figures have been compiled by W. J. Osborn, director of educational measurements for Wisconsin. In the Terman intelligence test, the school ranked 15th in the Buckleham problem scale 86; the Clapp language test 91; and in Briggs English test which was marked on errors, 87. The highest average attained in the mathematics test by any school was 90. In the language test 85 was the best mark.

Rock county training school children showed up well in the tests conducted at about the same time.

LITTLE BUSINESS SEEN THIS WEEK IN LEGISLATURE

Repeal Duck Law. Repeal of the 1919 legislature, with substitution of an open season on deer in Wisconsin every other year, is called for by a bill introduced by Assemblyman Lindahl. The measure calls also for an open season on partridges and pheasants every other year, in place of the present law establishing an annual open season.

A bill aimed at the Ku Klux Klan was introduced by Senator Ren Gettelman, Milwaukee, requiring that every fraternal organization, secret society, club and association, file with the secretary of state and county, twice a year, the names of all its members. The bill also provides for failure to comply with the requirements.

DOLL UP YANKEES TOLD BY TAILORS

St. Louis—Stitcher adherence on the part of Americans to evening clothes was urged by speakers at the annual convention of the Merchant Tailor Designers' association, which opened here Tuesday.

L. C. Tyler, chairman of the fashion committee, declared the average man's tendency in the United States to neglect changing from the Tuxedo to the full dress leaves the impression that he has less regard for his feminine companion than has the average Englishman.

"Tuxedo, or dinner clothes, are all right for card party and dinners, but for balls or other evening functions they are labor," Mr. Tyler said.

Realize what Kellogg's Bran means to your family's health?

Eaten regularly each day, Kellogg's Bran will relieve constipation, it will free you from dangerous toxic poisons that lead to 90% of all human illness; it will remove the cause and sweeten a bad breath; it will clear a pimply complexion through its work on the bowels. In fact, Kellogg's Bran, through its natural action as a bulk, indigestible agent, will tone-up the whole system.

If you knew exactly what constipation means from a medical viewpoint, you would have no time toasting Kellogg's Bran yourself and serving it daily to your family. And, Kellogg's is actually delicious, its nut-like flavor adding greatly to the enjoyment of eating cereals. Eat at least two tablespoons each day, in chronic cases, with each meal.

There are many attractive ways to serve Kellogg's Bran. Eat it in winter with hot milk as a cereal. Or, mix it with cereals before serving. Many housewives cook it with cereals, in each case adding two tablespoons for each person. Use anti-keg of Kellogg's Bran when it has been sprinkled over hot or cold cereals.

You have missed some of the joys of life if you have not eaten raisin bread, muffins, griddle-cakes, etc., made with Kellogg's Bran. Recipes are printed on each box.

Don't delay your fight against constipation; don't lose a minute in the great battle against illness! You can buy Kellogg's Bran from all grocers and you can have it served in individual packages at first-class hotels, restaurants and clubs.

Sartell's showing a net surplus of $40,000 carried over from 1922 into 1923, featured a meeting of the city council, Monday night. The proposed traffic ordinances were put over until Feb. 5, meetings on account of the Chamber of Commerce dinner Monday night, which prevented a number of citizens from appearing before the council to protest the measures. By mutual consent, it was agreed to defer the vote.

It is expected the council will go ahead and fix the salaries despite the fact they will be subject to change two months later.

COOKERY SECRETS ARE UNFOLDED

Scores of Women Greet Miss Hinkley at Cooking School Opening.

Miss Elsie Hinkley, custodian of the secrets of success in cooking, because of many of her secrets of the palatable art to a large audience of women who gathered Tuesday afternoon at the opening of the cooking school. Shortcuts in baking which have time and ingredients were demonstrated and recipes given for many quick breads.

Miss Hinkley made nut loaf, quick parkerhouse rolls, eight minute doughnuts and fruit rolls, demonstrating rapid methods of preparation. In connection with the doughnut making Miss Hinkley gave a short lecture on trying. She said that food if fired properly is just as digestible as cooked by other means.

Although printed recipes were given out, many of the women found their pencils and pads helpful in jotting down little hints given out by the teacher. A 64-page cook book will be given to those who attend the school. Each day a highly interesting and instructive lecture on foods will be given preceding the lesson.

Miss Hinkley was given an enthusiastic reception as many of the townswomen became acquainted with her at the school last year. Believing in "the proof of the pudding" many are attending again because of the success of the school.

How You Can Save On Butter, Improve On Lard and Have More Delicious Food Explained at the Gazette's Free Cooking School at Leath's Furniture Store

THE SECRET OF MODERN COOKING

Tomorrow, Thursday and Friday, beginning at 2 p. m., lectures and demonstrations will be given at the Gazette's Free Cooking School by Miss Elsie Hinkley—no charge—everything free.

More than seven million women in America have solved the problem of economy in their cooking and salads: They have found that for frying and sauteing; for shortening bread, cakes or pie crust; for a sweet, wholesome salad oil, there is nothing so acceptable as Mazola—the Great American Cooking and Salad Oil.

Mazola is much more economical than butter. Where the recipe calls for a cup of butter you only use two-thirds to three-fourths of a cup of Mazola; so you save in this way, too.

There is no more delicious salad oil anywhere than Mazola. It blends perfectly with all the other ingredients and makes a smooth rich dressing, that will keep for weeks without separating. This expert is in town for the purpose of demonstrating the best and most modern ways of cooking, baking and salad making.

She will be glad to prove, right before your eyes, all that we have been saying about Mazola. Any questions you may have to ask concerning your own cooking or salad problems, she will be only too glad to answer. Run in today and see this clever young woman. You could not spend a half hour to better advantage. Bring pad and pencil and take notes during the lecture. Women's Clubs, Teachers' Organizations and high school domestic science classes especially invited.

FATHER-SON WEEK TO BEGIN FEB. 4TH

Extensive Plans Made for Banquets and Big Rally Here.

Plans for both Live Wire and Father-Son activities have been made by committees of the boys' work committee and local ministers. Although they have been started late in the year, it is expected that as much interest will be shown, and the activities will be better organized, than previously.

Father-Son week will be observed Feb. 4-10, the Y. M. C. A. the city boys' work committee and eight or ten local churches cooperating. Ministers will preach special sermons either on the 4th or the 10th. There will be an athletic mixer at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night, and Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs will be asked to arrange special affairs, possibly having each man bring his son or some other young man.

The annual banquet, the main affair of the week, will occur Thursday night and will be held in separate respects. Each of the churches celebrating the week will have a banquet.

quiet and perhaps speeches, and at 8 o'clock all of these will adjourn to meet and march in parade formation to the new high school, where exercises will be held in the auditorium. All fathers and sons are invited to this meeting, whether or not they attended any of the banquets. HEIDER'S BOOT SHOP
219 W. Milwaukee St.

The Bureau meeting to be held in Janesville on Thursday. Members will be requested to express their opinion on a state Agricultural program of laws to be fostered by the Bureau this day.

The questions dealt with laws on dairy problems, such as laws prohibiting the use of dairy terms in the labeling and advertising of dairy products and for funds to promote and supervise cow testing association work. On sanitation, the questions dealt largely with dairymen's health, dairies, dairymen's work and milk dealers. Other provisions deal with taxation reforms and a stricter trapnase law.

The replies on the questions will determine largely what legislation will be followed by the Wisconsin Fair Play League, in its work at Madison this year.

A good attendance is expected at the annual meeting which will start at the League house and be followed by a banquet at meeting in the Janesville Y. M. C. A. officers for the coming year will be elected. Secretary H. C. Hemmingway urges that reservation cards be sent in by Wednesday noon to allow for reservations.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and costs about 5c. Ready and quickly prepared.

—Advertisement.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour into bottle of Pinex, and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a pink of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the annoying tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and has been used for generations to break severe coughs. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for the ounces of Pinex with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Relieving Nervousness and Other Distressing Ailments by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound four years ago, and am taking it now for the Change of Life and other troubles. I feel like a new woman. I am willing to let you use my letter as a testimonial because it is the truth. I found your book in my letter box and read it carefully, and that is how I came to take the Vegetable Compound myself. It has given me quiet nerves so that I sleep all night, and a better appetite. I have recommended it already to all my friends and relatives."—Mrs. ENGLEMAN, 2032 Palmetto St., Ridgewood, Brooklyn, N. Y.

For the woman suffering from nervous troubles causing sleeplessness, headache, hysteria, "the blues," Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine.

For the woman of middle age who is passing through the trials of that period, it can be depended upon to relieve the troubles common at that time.

You should give it a fair trial now.
